

strike attributes indicate a table in the enterprise database. The second word shows the origin of the foreign key which is also part of the primary key of the table. One exception is drug allergies whose first word indicates the origin of the foreign key.